Laura M. D'Agostino

Associate

Overview

Ms. D'Agostino is an Associate in Jackson & Campbell, P.C.'s General Litigation and Real Estate Practice Groups. Prior to joining the Firm, Laura served as a judicial law clerk to The Honorable Tracy C. Hudson in the Circuit Court for the Thirty-First Judicial Circuit of Virginia for two years. This experience allowed her to gain an informed perspective on managing court procedures and the myriad of issues that arise in litigation.

During law school, Laura also had the opportunity to work at the Virginia Court of Appeals, the Superior Court of the District of Columbia, and with law firms engaged in the representation of clients facing complex local and federal regulations.

Laura's passion for the law stems from being part of a family of business owners and witnessing the issues that business entities face.

Laura received her Bachelor of Arts (cum laude) from George Mason University. She also participated in a dual degree program and simultaneously obtained her J.D. from Antonin Scalia Law School and her Master of Public Policy from the McCourt School of Public Policy at Georgetown University. She was a member of the George Mason Supreme Court Clinic and contributed to an amicus brief that was submitted in regards to a case before the U.S. Supreme Court.
